BUREAU OF MED ECONCS 814983X:

Experian is reporting information to my credit report as a Medical Collection when it was actually paid by my insurance and should have never have become a collection. I called my medical provider and they told me there was a delay in the insurance claim, but that my bill HAD BEEN PAID and they apologized for the inconvenience. I am aware of the March 2015 New York Attorney General national settlement with the credit bureaus that requires deletion of paid medical collections, even when there has been a delay by the insurance company. Any collection information is in error and should be deleted.
